Costa Rica Mission Projects

Costa Rica Mission Projects (CRMP), led by Will and Yolanda Bailey, works to establish mutually beneficial, long-lasting relationships between churches in the US and churches in Costa Rica. Since 2003, CRMP has coordinated building projects, Vacation Bible School, evangelism, and mission trips for Costa Ricans to serve in the United States and El Salvador. Costa Rica Mission Projects has built sanctuaries, Sunday School buildings, church kitchens, parsonages, and a camp in over a dozen different communities.

The Missions and Ministry Center (MMC) houses visiting mission teams as well as young women and their children from distant villages who are pursuing educational opportunities leading them to better lives.
